Tom Poser Joins

Jones Lang LaSalle in Northern California

San Francisco, October XX, 2007 -- Jones Lang LaSalle announced that Thomas R. Poser has joined the firm's Northern California region as Leasing Director. He will be based in the San Francisco office and will focus primarily on serving the needs of the firm's technology clients.

Mr. Poser joins Jones Lang LaSalle from Commercial Realty Advisers, Inc., a San Diego-based commercial brokerage, where he was a vice president responsible for office and industrial leasing and sales in central San Diego. Prior to his position at CRA, Mr. Poser was a vice president at GVA IPC Commercial Real Estate, where he was a tenant representative assisting clients in finding new corporate locations.

Before joining the real estate industry Poser, who played collegiate basketball at UC Santa Barbara in the late 1990s, played the sport professionally in Europe and the Midwest.

“Our goal in the region is to provide our clients with access to the best professionals in their class across the full spectrum of our services whether it is agency leasing, tenant representation, capital markets, investment sales, corporate property services, development and property management or any one of the 21 discrete services we provide here,” said David Churton, International Director, Jones Lang LaSalle. “Tom is another great addition to our team in San Francisco and will be a tremendous resource to our corporate clients in and around the Bay Area, particularly in the technology sector.”

Mr. Poser holds a B.A. in Economics from UC Santa Barbara and lives in Marin County with his wife Sarah and newborn son, Charlie.
