SAN FRANCISCO, October 23, 2006 – Jones Lang LaSalle (NYSE: JLL) announced that Benjamin Pollock, Senior Vice President of Jones Lang LaSalle's Strategic Consulting Group, and Diane Vrkic, a Vice President in the Strategic Consulting Group, have relocated to the San Francisco office to augment the firm's growing consulting presence in Northern California.

Mr. Pollock was previously based in Jones Lang LaSalle's Seattle office. Ms. Vrkic moves to San Francisco from the firm's Chicago headquarters.

Mr. Pollock advises clients on the development potential of surplus and underutilized real estate assets and prepares disposition strategies and deal structures designed to unlock value in these properties. He also markets properties nationally to motivated investors and developers. Mr. Pollock has over 25 years experience in commercial real estate and joined Jones Lang LaSalle in 2005 after 12 years as an independent development advisor and broker and in acquisitions with Kennedy Associates Real Estate Counsel, an institutional investment advisory firm based in Seattle.

Mr. Pollock graduated magna cum laude with a B.A. from Williams College and holds an M.B.A. from Harvard University. He is a member of Lambda Alpha International and the Urban Land Institute.

Ms. Vrkic joined Jones Lang LaSalle in 2004 following several years as a manager with Accenture in New York City. She advises clients on a wide range of business and real estate strategy topics ranging from alternative workplace strategies to identifying cost savings opportunities through portfolio reviews and enhancing business performance. Recently, she advised a major healthcare group on developing a new strategy for their medical office building portfolio. She is also actively working on developing new real estate service areas for Jones Lang LaSalle.

Ms. Vrkic graduated summa cum laude and in curso honorum with a B.Sc. from Fordham University and also holds an M.B.A. from the Stanford Graduate School of Business.

Jones Lang LaSalle's Strategic Consulting network of 150 professionals worldwide helps corporate real estate departments strengthen their contribution to the bottom line of their enterprise, with services that include: occupancy cost reduction strategies; portfolio optimization; strategic occupancy planning; creation of best-in-class real estate departments; portfolio governance design; workplace strategies; and labor-based location strategies.
